

5 Great Reasons

to Work at Powder Coating Technologies

We are so glad you're interested in joining our team. Metal finishing is a specialized craft, and we take pride in providing our high quality services and finishes to residential and commercial customers throughout the region. We are always looking to add enthusiastic team members who will share in the success of Powder Coating Technologies. We invite you to explore what makes us a great place to work, learn, and be part of a growing team. Here are five reasons to consider a career with Powder Coating Technologies.

1. We are a small, tight-knit team that works well together

Teamwork is a big part of who we are at Powder Coating Technologies. While you will have specific responsibilities, there will be plenty of opportunities to learn about our industrial, architectural, and residential processes and finishes. Working together is how we have become recognized as a leading provider of powder coating services throughout our region.

2. Our diverse customer base provides us with a wide variety of interesting parts to finish

Our team provides durable, high quality finishes on a wide variety of items including industrial weldments and framework, architectural work, specialty artwork, railings and fencing, and so much more. At Powder Coating Technologies, every project is unique and we are proud to say that each team member plays a vital part in providing long-lasting, quality finishes for our customers.

3. We strive to “cross-train” our team members, providing them with a variety of tasks to learn and master.

Every day is a little different at Powder Coating Technologies, and because of this we support our team members in their growth with ongoing work-place learning. Our hands-on training provides the skills you need to succeed and many opportunities to learn all areas of our metal finishing processes.

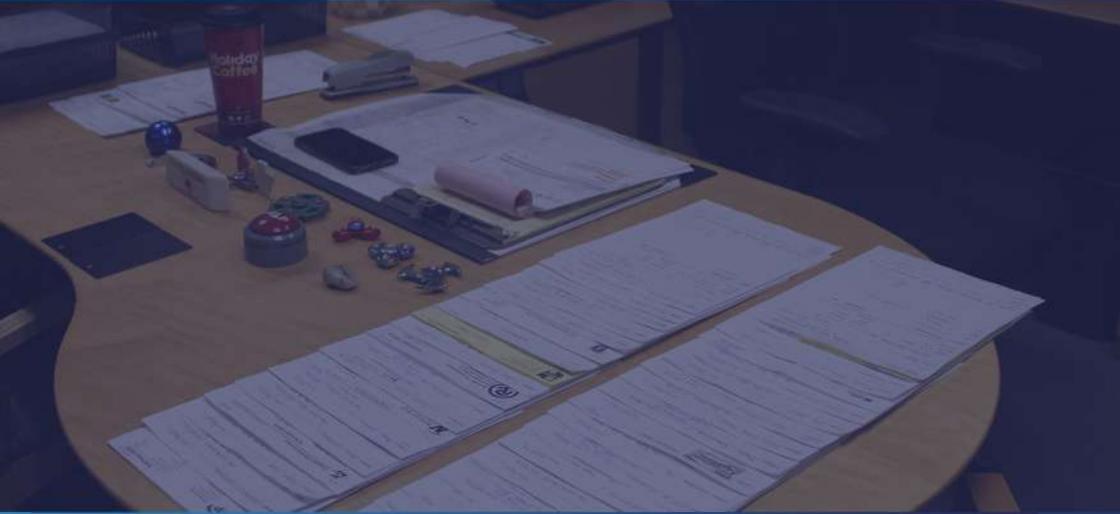

4. We are flexible in our hours to accommodate what is important to you.

We all experience unexpected life circumstances. And even those planned trips to the doctor, or maybe a field trip with your child, leaves you needing to adjust your work schedule. At Powder Coating Technologies, we know that creating a work-life balance is an important aspect of any healthy work environment. That's why we offer flexibility to our team members with adjustable hours to accommodate life as it happens.

5. We offer competitive pay and benefits.

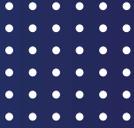

After 90-days of employment, our team members have the opportunity to elect health and dental insurance. We also make planning for the future a little easier with our SIMPLE retirement plan, that is available to all team members.

Our employees are the heart of our company, and we continually seek ways to build upon that team with value-added benefits. As we continue to develop our company in new and innovative ways, it is equally important that we support our team members with a healthy work environment. As part of the Powder Coating Technologies team, you will regularly see additional benefits, incentives and programs that promote a healthy work/life balance.
